

Romanoff Renovations Named Home Depot Service Provider of the Year for 3rd Consecutive Year

May 29, 2014 – Atlanta, GA - Romanoff Renovations, provider of flooring installations and bathroom remodeling, was recently named 2014 Home Depot Service Provider of the Year, selected out of a network of over 4,000 providers nationwide.

This award marks the 3rd consecutive year of the company being named Service Provider of the Year, an honor never before achieved.

The award acknowledges Romanoff's work in the areas of quality of service, technology innovation, store connectivity, giving back to the community, and driving sales. Specifically, Romanoff was recognized for creating solid relationships with Home Depot store associates, and was named as the Top Provider of Store Connectivity for The Home Depot's Southern Division.

Romanoff has enjoyed a 20+ year partnership with The Home Depot, continuously striving to be an leader in innovative solutions to enhance customer experiences and grow market share, both inside the flooring and bath remodeling industry and as positive impact to Home Depot Home Services as a whole.

Romanoff CEO Aaron Ribner had this to say about the achievement: "After we won the award in 2012 we immediately asked 'how to push ourselves even further?' Not for the sake of winning again, but to exceed our own expectations, and that of our customers. When we won the award in 2013, we celebrated for a day, and then focused on enhancing our team to help further develop key areas of our business through innovations and efficiency. After this year's win, we remain forward-focused, but candidly I am in awe of what our associates have achieved. Looking forward we have a robust innovation pipeline and I cannot wait to see what our team achieves next."
